Mirlin elected President of College Council

The Council of the College of Physicians and Surgeons of Alberta has elected as President of the Council, Dr. Walter Mirlin of St. Albert, and as Vice President, Dr. J. Dvorkin of Edmonton.

Dr. Mirlin, a graduate of Witwatersrand University, Johannesburg, has been engaged in general practice in St. Albert since 1962. He is chief of staff at the Sturgeon General Hospital.

Dr. Dvorkin graduated from the University of Alberta in 1943 and since 1951 has practised as a specialist in internal medicine in Edmonton.

best laid plans of mice & Kinsmen

Knowing that their National President, Bill Watson of Fonthill, Ontario, would be in Edmonton last Saturday, and would be going on to Barrhead Sunday morning to visit the Provincial District Governor, Bill Stutchbury, the St. Albert Kinsmen made elaborate preparations for an amusing stunt.

Kinsman Ken Pollon, a Justice of the Peace, arranged to have Mr. Watson arrested on two charges as his car entered St. Albert en route to Barrhead. The R.C.M.P. went along with the plan and were given the special warrants. Mr. Watson would be charged with planning to go through St. Albert without making an official visit to the St. Albert Club, and would have to submit his credentials to the police for examination.

He would then be escorted by the R.C.M.P. to Kin Rene Parenteau's Texaco station where the Kinsman bus and driver, Art MacDonald,were ready to take a dozen or more local members to Barrhead.

But lo and behold the National President slipped through the net at 10:15 Sunday morning, through a mistake in he car license number supplied to the R.C.M.P.

Last man on the bus is Erling Winquist scrambles aboard before the door closes as a group of Kinsmen took off Sunday morning for Barrhead, and a visit with their National President and Provincial District Governor.

Let's have costs in advance - Hudson

In discussing an offer to purchase a piece of property zoned light industrial, Councillor Hudson wanted to know Monday night if staff could prepare a per acre and per lot servicing cost on such property before such a proposal came to council. "We have another of these coming up tonight" he said, "and this is an example of how we are not equipping ourselves to look after people wanting to develop land commercially." The mayor observed that in this case "the cost of servicing is not too tough," but Cr. Hudson reiterated his position that council needs information on cost before being in a position to judge a proposal, and felt the mayor's comment re "not much of a problem" was not much help. "I agree" said Cr. Bakker - "this is a piece of raw land." "I go along with Cr. Hudson's view" said Cr. Throndson. Cr. Lukay thought staff should be asked to negotiate this particular purchase - "the location is ideal." Mayor Gibbon moved that staff negotiate and report back to council, and vote was unanimously in favor.

Speaking to a motion to refer the library report to budget, Cr. Throndson asked if the increased hours would include any Sunday opening, to which Cr. Bakker, who sits on the board, replied no. "That's too bad" said Cr. Throndson, noting that the Edmonton library is crowded Sundays. Mr. Green, chairman of the library board who was in the gallery, said that a survey done last year showed less than 50 per cent of the respondants asked for Sunday opening. Cr. Bakker felt if the board's budget were increased it might be possible, but in reply to Cr. Hudson's enquiry as to opening for a time on Sunday, without increasing the total hours per week, he said it created too much confusion to close any week day.

Referring to material received from thé Canadian Federation of Mayors and Municipalities, on the annual conference in Quebec, Mayor Gibbon said he would be available. Councillor Lukay asked if it were possible for council to submit resolutions to the meeting regarding power boat and snowmobile traffic on the river, which comes under federal regulation, and also one on department of transport procedure of notification on building ham radio towers. He hoped other councillors might also have some resolution suggestions ready in time to have them prepared by the April 14 deadline.

Councillor Lukay favored the town being represented at the conference, since this body determines what studies will go forward, such as the ones undertaken on Urban Development and Housing. Having attended some

Council acts - commercial projects and water supply

Town staff will be asked to prepare an amendment to the zoning bylaw, which could introduce a new zoning category in St. Albert covering a parcel of land to be used for parking in conjunction with a hotel. The amendment prepared will come before committee for discussion before any action is taken.

Such an amendment might help to clear the way for the hotel proposed for Ball avenue as council and Mr. Sam Shapiro of St. Albert Hotel Ltd., continues work on a satisfactory agreement for this commercial development. Planner John Woodroffe has indicated his approval of the zoning category.

Councillor Hudson moved second reading of a rezoning bylaw, covering a plot next to Hebert road in the area east of Pacific 66 for the Sturgeon Heights neighborhood shopping centre development, which passed unanimously, as did third reading. No one attended for the public hearing on the rezoning set for Monday night's meeting.

Stage one of the report by Stanley Associates recommends purchase of a pump at $8,000, and the building of a reservoir to add two million gallons of storage to the existing one and one-half million, at a cost of $287,000. This could take care of St. Albert to 1974 or 75, said Mr. R. Kruger of the engineering firm,and if the supply can be increased the storage should be adequate to 1979, on growth figures projected by Edmonton Regional Planning Commission. The firm did not take plans including the university into account, said Mr. Kruger, as it appears the university might be delayed or phased out.

The city he said has plans for more supply when a new aquaduct to the west end is completed, "possibly in 1976." Mr. Kruger also pointed out that while the pump has a relatively short life, the reservoir is never lost. The pump can be here by April he said.

Contract awarded - hotel extension in Bon Accord

Donald A. Grant, president and owner of the Morin Hotel Co. Ltd. at Bon Accord, has awarded the contract for a large extension to the beverage room and upgrading of the hotel to St. Laurent Construction Ltd., Edmonton, who are affiliated with Travellers Motor Hotel, Alberta Copper and Resources Ltd., and Lubicon Mining Ltd. Cost is estimated at $75,000.00.

Plans and designing have been engineered through TS and T Consultants Ltd., Engineers and Projects Managers, Edmonton.

The extension to the hotel will provide a new liquor bar, a feature of which will be a stand-up bar, believed to be only the second in the province, a snack bar, ladies restroom, office and a lounge area, with a lifted floor and a dancing area. Seating capacity will provide for approximately 300 patrons.

Construction is expected to commence before March 1st and the addition is planned to be completed and ready for occupancy by May 20th this year. A complete paving and sidewalk program should also be finished by that date.

A motor hotel complex, adjacent to the hotel, is also in the planning stages for a later date, Mr. Grant said in an interview this week.

An extensive addition and upgrading project at the Morin Hotel in Bon Accord is planned for completion by the end of May. The extension will provide a liquor lounge and dancing area for the hotel, along with paving and sidewalk to serve the hotel.

Put the kids in the know?

"The university is the Great Canadian Dream Machine. It is no longer in a position to deliver what many people think is the promised reward -- the 'good' job." This quote from a report on the career expectations of 2,100 University of Toronto undergraduates, appeared recently in The Financial Post

It is the bitter conclusion to a study by the student union of Canada's largest university and it gives additional weight to a suggestion that the pass-arts degree be abolished in favor of vocationally-oriented community college programs. That suggestion is made by R. C. Quittenton, president of St. Clair College, Windsor, Ont., in a brief being considered by the Ontario Commission on post-secondary education. It reflects, in a dramatic way, a creeping and unheralded trend.

Community college graduates seem to be faring better in the employment market than university graduates with general degrees. There are indications this preference for the non-degree graduate will increase. There are going to be a lot more of them, for one thing. In 1960, Canada had hardly a score of technical colleges Today, there are more than 100 non-degree-granting public institutions.

MLA Ernie Jamison presents a cheque for $4,520 from the Department of Youth, Culture and Recreation, to Mayor Leon St. Martin of Legal. The funds represent a five-year capital grant for the period 1968-73, and Mr. St. Martin turned over the cheque to Leonard Forcade, chairman of the Legal Recreation Board. The money will go toward installing an asphalt cement floor in the Legal arena. Board members, Reeve Walter Van de Walle and Mrs. Fern Van de Walle gathered at town hall Monday evening for the presentation.

sessions when the federation met in Edmonton, Cr. Lukay said they brought in excellent resource people, and much useful knowledge could be gained.

Mayor Gibbon was asked to sit on the Board of Directors of CFMM last year, but did not accept, not knowing whether council would approve the expense. Cr. Lukay moved that if invited to do so again the mayor accept. The mayor said that while the federation was large - city oriented, they now have liaison with the AUMA. He felt also they had been fairly successful in getting action in a number of areas - "housing is one." Lukay's motion carried 4 - 1 with Bakker opposed.

Mayor Gibbon's motion to bring the work and order the pump passed 5 - 0. (Councillors Kambouroff and deBruijn were both out of town). The mayor also recommended doing the design work now, and planning for 1972 construction through tenders of the reservoir. In reply to Cr. Throndson's question, Mr. Kruger said the design work would take about five weeks. Mayor Gibbon noted that water and sewer reserves through offsite charges stood about $250,000 at present, and Cr. Bakker observed that the project might be handled on short term financing. Secretary-treasurer O'Connell felt that interim financing might be best, and said an assessment of potential under development agreements in progress would show what might be expected for water reserves, "and in that concept the financing would perhaps not be too much of a problem.

Cr. Hudson asked "how long to complete?" and Mr. Kruger said by the end of August, if approved by mid February. Hudson moved that work on design and specifications be started, with construction planned for completion this year. Cr. Lukay wished to delay such action till a special meeting of council called for Thursday, so the report could be studied further, Cr. Bakker felt that the financial check would not be ready by then and the motion needed approval before tenders could be called. He also observed that the charge has been doubled from $100 - $200 on water offsite charges, which would improve the projected reserve position. "And we are getting lots of applications at $500 said Mayor Gibbon, referring to the combine water and sewer offsite charges since the increase effective January 1st of this year. Lukay's motion to table to Thursday carried 4 - 1 with Hudson opposed.

The annual loss from insects and disease in all United States forests equals 2.4 billion cubic feet of timber.

"My wife dreamed last night that she was married to a millionaire."

"There you are, dear," said the little wife, putting a plate before her husband, "just the way you'd better like it."

Ann Jwaszko honoured by Help Society

Ann Jwaszko and Dianne Proctor enjoy a private joke at the party given for Ann on the occasion of her resignation from the Help Society.

The St. Albert Help Society honoured Mrs. Ann Jwaszko at a coffee party Monday evening at the home of Dianne Proctor, Greenwich Crescent.

Mrs. Jwaszko has been senior homemaker with the Help Society since the homemaker service was established over two years ago. She is resigning in order that she may spend more time with her own family.

Many St. Albert families will remember Mrs. Jwaszko for the affection and help she gave them during times of stress or illness. Over the past 12 months Mrs. Jwaszko and the other homemakers have assisted 43 St. Albert families, including 167 children.

Program planned to meet big need of 3 & 4 year olds

As reported in the Gazette a committee has been established to look into the formation of a Montessori school for St. Albert. This committee has now decided that because of the expense and the difficulty in locating a teacher trained in the Montessori methods, a broader type of program would be more appropriate.

The purpose of such a program would be to accommodate three and four year olds for whom facilities are very limited at the moment. According to recent statistics in St. Albert, there are 275 three and 289 four year olds. At present there are no pre-school programs for three year olds and extremely few openings for the four year age group.

There are an estimated 1,000 to 1,500 children with learning disabilities in the Sturgeon-St. Albert area, therefore, the need for early recognition of these learning problems is evident. Qualified teachers and a comprehensive program of learning should assist such children. The committee is presently considering programs of two, three and five half days per week.

The broadened curriculum will provide for many of the diverse needs of the children. Interest centres will include table activities (educational toys, puzzles, blocks and some Montessori equipment); painting; science nook (prisms, magnets, nature activities); dramatic play (puppets); play house; book corner; and sand and water tables. Some group activities such as singing, craft projects and movement education are also planned. We hope to keep the pupil teacher ratio at about five or six to one - about three adults to a class of 15 to 18 children.

Presently the major concern is finding a suitable location for such a school. Some possibilities are being considered, but the committee would appreciate hearing from anyone who may know of space which might be available for this use. Mrs. Carolyn Smerdon, 599-8975; Mrs. Denise Selann, 599-5407; or Mrs. Kathleen Stewart 599-6756 may be contacted in this regard.

The incident was reported to the city police within minutes, and it appears a conviction may be obtained of firing a rifle within city limits. The coyote escaped unharmed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ouimet are enjoying having their daughter Linda Mason home for a visit from Australia. It is a little more than two years since Linda and Janet Perron left for an overseas tour. Linda was 18 hours on the plane from her home in Sidney to San Fransico, then on to Seattle, and due to the strike she had to continue by bus to Vancouver. She arrived there on the same day she left Sidney, having lost a day through the time zone. Fortunately the strike was settled and she was able to fly to Edmonton on the last leg of a strenuous trip.

The Editor:

On Wednesday, Feb. 2 the Bon Accord Midgets defeated the Morinville Midgets by a score of 4 - 3 with their last minute goal. Of course the goal was disputed to no avail. However this incident was very minute compared to the disgusting incidents that occurred when the Bon Accord coach and his boys attempted to leave the arena.

The thing that bothers me is that the person who was in charge of the Morinville Midgets that evening made hardly any effort at all to stop what was about to happen. May be I am not the person who should point the accusing finger but something like that makes me ashamed to say I am from Morinville.

As manager of the Morinville Seniors I would be very reluctant to bring any of these players, up no matter how good the player may be. The reason - the team has a bad reputation. This makes me sound prejudiced, but the innocent ones have a big and important job to do. These boys need hard rock discipline. Let us hope for a better showing in the future.

Muzichuks double their business space with new extension

With completion of a new addition to their laudromat premises, at 27 Perron street, Nick and Katherine Muzichuk have exactly doubled the space they started with three years ago, when St. Albert Coin Laundry opened its doors.

At that time they had 16 units - 10 washers and six dryers. Equipment installed in the extension brings the total to 20 regular washers, one commercial washer for rugs, blankets, quilts etcetera, and 12 dryers. All the units are by Speed Queen and Mr. Muzichuk reports that with fine co-operation by the public, there has been very little trouble with the machines.

The Muzichuks receive a lot of help from their three sons, Ross, Bruce and Gary in running the business, which operates from nine in the morning until eleven in the evening, seven days a week.

While the premises need not be staffed at all times, members of the family are back and forth a good deal each day. They have also a "complaint" box where people can apply for refunds of coins not returned if a machine fails to come on for some other reason. They are also on call by telephone during those hours, and expect that total time spent will also double with their new addition.

Mr. and Mrs. Muzichuk have made their home at 51 Gladstone Crescent in St. Albert for five years, and prior to opening their business here they had a cleaners and laundromat in Edmonton for two years.

Index your Phone book - help Scouts

The young fellows in 5th St. Albert cubs and scouts have taken on an ambitious project to raise funds for a trip to Minnesota in July.

They will pick up your new telephone book after it has been delivered and index it for you at the nominal sum of $2.00, and deliver it back to your home or business office.

Index tabs are a useful and time-saving device, and by ordering this job from the cubs and scouts you will help them make the money they need for the week long Scout Jamboree this summer. Boys from many parts of the continent will gather for training in scouting, sports competitions and perhaps most important, making new friends with other boys in their age group

If you, as a resident or a business firm, have not been contacted by one of the scout committee members, please telephone Del Brige at 599-8290, or Helen Lastwika at 599-7573.

Get a mortgage now

Mortgage rates may fall off again within the next couple of months, but if you're in the market for a loan, now is the time to look for one. This prediction comes from Frederic Wagniere writing in The Financial Post. He suggests that National Housing Act (NHA) mortgage rates could decline to 8 5/8 per cent or 8 1/2 per cent from the present level of 8 3/4, but mortgage specialists expect any drop to be short-lived. Rates should start moving up again during the second quarter, they predict. Toward the end of the year, this key credit rate for home owners could be around nine per cent again. The recent decline in rates is attributed to a large supply of funds for mortgages and general reluctance by borrowers -- home owners and real estate developers alike -- to commit themselves at the present time. This is somewhat surprising in view of the large number of housing starts last year -- approximately 235,000. But the continuing concern over unemployment has made many potential house buyers wary. Developers have also become more cautious. They do not want to overextend themselves for fear of a new tight money policy.

Sing Out to join Braeside service

Worship for young people will be the emphasis of the morning service on Sunday, February 13 at Braeside Presbyterian. Through music the St. Albert Sing Out choir, complete with band and organ accompaniment, will lead the congregation in worship.

Under the direction of John Lindley the choir will sing a number of selections which highlight the bond of love and understanding expected between man and man because of the Father's great love for all His children.

Various parts of this celebration of worship will also be led by the young people. The readings and prayers will focus on areas of particular concern and relevance to thinking young people who are part of the search for what its all about. The proclamation will be given by the minister, the Rev. Noel Gordon, and will centre around the theme of satisfaction in living.

A very big welcome is extended to all young people and those young at heart to share in this service, especially friends and relatives of the Sing Out choir.

The Celebration of Worship begins at 11 a.m. sharp. The seating capacity of the church is not unlimited, but all seats fare free.

Coffee will be served after the service for the visitors and the congregation. About 30 members of the Sing Out group, with guitarists, drummer and organist will be present for the service.

Congratulations,

District homesteader honoured in Gibbons on his 95th birthday

A most enjoyable time was had by the many friends and relatives of Mr. Fred Dale of Gibbons, Alberta, when he was honoured on his 95th birthday of December 24, 1971 at a celebration held in the Gibbons Legion Hall. Mr. Dale received telegrams of congratulations from Ernie Jamison, MLA for the constituency; Lieut-Governor Grant MacEwan; Premier Peter Lougheed, and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau. He was also presented with a plaque honouring his 95 years.

FRED DALE

Mr. Dale was born on December 24, 1876 in Rushton, England. Having experienced a most exciting childhood, he ventured on to Macclesfield where he drove a "lorrie" for John R. Green, a wholesale and retail merchant. He later married Louise Jane Tatton and became an insurance agent for a period of one year, whereafter he started a wholesale bakery for five years.

He and his wife and son William emigrated to Canada in April of 1910, farming in various districts of Alberta including Waugh, New Lunnon, Fairydell, and Gibbons. During this time he and his wife were blessed with a second child, a daughter Winnifred. Mr. Dale served as secretary-treasurer for Waugh School District, New Lunnon and Creuzot. He also held the same position for the Gibbons Community Centre. During the war he served at the Aircraft Repair Centre in Edmonton as well as Fort William.

For a period of 16 years he was employed at a service station owned and managed by Jack Hogg of Gibbons, serving as bookkeeper as well as service attendant.

His wife passed away on August 8, 1932. Some years later Mr. Dale remarried, to Selina Christie of Gibbons, a widow with four grown children, Helen, Peggy, Nellie, and Don. Selina Dale passed away on January 8, 1968. Mr. Dale's son, Bill, died in September of 1957 at Vancouver.

He has retired and makes his home in Gibbons, where he is rated "tops" among the older generation as well as the young. Being of keen wit and exuberant health, Mr. Dale lives by himself, performing all his own household chores. During the winter months he spends the majority of his time reading and watching television. An enthusiastic sports fan he enjoys all of the athletic games televised as well as any musical entertainment. As an enlivening and refreshing exercise, Mr. Dale shovels his entrance and sidewalks regularly, having the cleanest sidewalks in town. One shouldn't even be surprised to see him on his roof cleaning off the snow and ice.

During the summer Mr. Dale spends his time gardening. Up until last year he planted a complete vegetable garden, but now finds more interest in his plum and apple trees, as well as his numerous raspberry bushes. His yard, of an extensive size, is surrounded with hedges, which he keeps neat and trim.

Mr. Dale is kept constant company by his neighbors, children, grandchildren, and great-grandchildren, the later of whom he enjoys cuddling on his lap. Many more years of enjoyment and good health are anticipated and wished for this truly fine gentleman.

Morinville Births

By Rose Martel

Morinville is happy to welcome several newcomers to the community.

On January 15, Mr. and Mrs. Marcel Pelletier welcomed another son, David Remi, a brother for Marc and Lise.

Mr. and Mrs. Philipe Turgeon are being congratulated on the arrival of another daughter, Laurie, on January 21. A sister of Monique Lana Kieser is getting acquainted with her new sister Susan Lorraine, born January 30. Proud parents Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kieser.

Andrea Eran Orbeck was a very brave little girl to arrive in 52 below weather on January 25. Both mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. William Orbeck beat the stork to the hospital and Andrea came home in very frigid outside temperature but a most warm welcome was awaiting her from other members of the family.

On Saturday, January 29, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Borle became grandparents. Mr. Prudhomme Borle now retired at Westlock, welcomed his first great grandchild, and so did Mrs. Phyllis Hinch now of Edmonton, but formerly of St. Albert, with the arrival of Catherine-Ann Saunter, first born child of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Saunter (nee Colleen Borle).

Town of St. Albert

PUBLIC NOTICE:
INSPECTOR'S REPORT

Date: Dec. 7, 8, 10 and 16, 1971

TOWN OF ST. ALBERT NO. 10534

The annual inspection of the books, records and administration of the Town of St. Albert was conducted on the above noted dates and the following comments and observations are made in that regard.

The financial records were found to be well maintained with current postings and cash balances confirmed.

In respect to the assessment and tax roll, all postings appear to be in order and statutory requirements are being closely followed.

A tax sale was held on November 24, 1971 with the procedures as outlined in The Tax Recovery Act being followed.

Upon examination of the minutes, which were well prepared and gave a detailed account of the many business transactions of council, the following items were noted.

1. A resolution was passed on November 30, 1970 to authorize the accountant to sign cheques in respect to Homeowners Tax Discount payments and it is pointed out that Section 57, clause (d) of The Municipal Government Act specifically provides that the council by resolution may authorize the TREASURER alone to sign and issue cheques covering discounts payable to persons under The Homeowners Tax Discount Act.

2. Although the 1971 estimates were readily available, a copy of this document had not been incorporated in the minutes of the meeting of the council at which they were adopted as required by Section 92, subsection (3) of The Municipal Taxation Act.

A considerable number of bylaws were dealt with by council since the last inspection and were found to be properly signed, sealed and approved where necessary.

All temporary loans taken out in 1971 had been repaid at the time of inspection and the cash book balances indicated an accumulated amount of -- $252,603.38 with an additional $550,000.00 in term deposits as of November 30, 1971.

The 1970 Financial Statement indicated that the Town closed that year with an operating surplus of $8,135.28 in the General Revenue Fund and an operating deficit of $7,834.71 in the Water Supply System Revenue Fund. The over-all financial picture however was favorable for which the council and administration staff is to be complimented. The 1971 Estimates indicate that the concept of surplus budgeting is to be continued and it is noted that the council is now considering adjustments to the water rate structure in order that the water system may become self-supporting as suggested in the previous Inspector's Report.

I am pleased to report that the general administration of the office is being carried out in an efficient and proper manner.

E. J. BRISCOE,
Senior Municipal Inspector.

Presbyterians hold annual meeting

The annual meeting of Braeside Presbyterian church was held on Sunday evening, Jan. 30, and in spite of the weather was well attended. The meeting was opened with devotions led by the minister, the Rev. Noel Gordon. Following the election of Mr. Bill Hanna as secretary for the meeting the presentation of reports from the various organizations and boards of the congregation were heard.

Highlights of the reports for 1971 included the election and ordination to the Ruling Eldership in the congregation of Mr. David Adlard, Mr. Bill Hanna and Mr. Garth Peterson. A 10 per cent increase in the communicant membership over the past year was also noted, in the report presented by the Kirk Session Clerk, Mr. Bill Bissonnette. The church school superintendent, Mrs. Peterson, reported that the enrolment in the church school had remained fairly constant over the year, and she also commended the faithful and dedicated service of the teaching staff.

Special projects of the church school during the year included donations to the Fellowship House for Indian boys in Prince Albert and to the Canadian Bible Society, as well as the purchase of a piano.

The secretary of the board of managers, Mr. Ed Telfer, reported an active year with several projects undertaken. One such project was the levelling and landscaping of the church property, the cost of which was met by donations over and above the regular budget of the congregation.

Mrs. Joan Hogg, secretary of the Burning Bush Circle, reported on a busy year for the ladies with various projects in addition to the regular monthly meetings.

Under new business the treasurer, Mr. Brian Taylor, presented the proposed budget for 1972. After discussion and amendments, the budget adopted by the meeting calls for about a 10 per cent increase in givings during 1972 by the congregation over those required in 1971.

Elections to fill the five vacancies on the Board of Managers were held. Those elected were Mr. Wayne Bissonnette, Mr. John Derijk, Mr. Larry Gordon, Dr. Yasu Hiratsuka and Mrs Joan Hogg. Mr. Brian Taylor was re-elected as the congregation's treasurer.

Before the meeting adjourned, greetings and remarks were heard from the special visitors. The Rev. Harry Crawford and Mr. David White spoke on behalf of the Presbytery of Edmonton, while the Rev. Calvin Doka, Synodical Missionary, addressed the meeting on behalf of the Synod of Alberta of the Presbyterian Church in Canada.

Following the adjournment and benediction, light refreshments were enjoyed by all.

THE MEDIUM IS THE MESSAGE -- Red roses traditionally say, "I love you," on Valentine's Day but if the friendship is too young to be serious there are white gardenias to say "You're lovely," or orchids to say "You're beautiful." Irises tell her "Your friendship means much to me," and pansies say, "Thinking of you." For mixed feelings, the Florists' Transworld Delivery Association (FTD) has designed a special bouquet called the "LoveBundle" made of chrysanthemums, red tulips and pink carnations. It means, "You're a wonderful friend, you set my heart on fire and I will never forget you." Non-committal but nice.

Washington -- Islam's holy book invokes Allah by 99 "most beautiful names." The camel, legend says, has aloof dignity because it knows a 100th, according to the National Geographic Society's new book, "Great Religions of the World."

New Guinea legend says when God put the first tribesmen ashore from His ship, He offered each a choice of rifle or bow, and canoe or dinghy. As the bow was lighter to carry and the outrigger rode better in the water, the tribes picked them. God then gave what was left of his cargo -- the better tools -- to foreigners, the legend relates.

Hole in One Program

The 1971 "Molson Hole in One Program" closed on September 30.

A total of 104 holes-in-one were scored on Alberta golf courses under the rules of the program as sanctioned by the Alberta Golf Association.

For each hole-in-one scored in the 1971 program, Molson Brewery Alberta Ltd., have contributed $70 which enabled a crippled child to attend camp for one week. The sum of the total contribution in Alberta is $7,280.00.

Camps for crippled children in Alberta are Camp Horizon, west of Calgary at Bragg Creek, operated by the Alberta Rehabilitation Council for the Disabled; and Camp Health, Hope and Happiness at Lake Isle, west of Edmonton, operated by the Edmonton Associated Canadian Travellers.

This program was in effect in the four Western Provinces which saw a total of 373 holes-in-one scored which assisted 373 crippled children to attend the various provincial camps.

Rules of qualification under the program, as sanctioned by the Alberta Golf Association, recognized a hole-in-one when:

1. Scored between May 18 and September 30, 1971.
2. Scored while playing in either a threesome or a foursome.
3. Scored on an affiliated Alberta Golf Association course.

ARTICLE 3

Your plot plan by now has the outline of your home, a patio, and a garage, if you have followed the steps shown in Chapters one and two. Let's ask a few questions of the locations of the patio and garage, just to be sure we are not going to wish they were in a different place at a later date. Will the patio afford some shade, and some direct sun during the day? The best way to be sure of sun is to have the exposed area of the patio open to the south and west. Remember, you are only at the drawing stage - feel free to change your mind on any of these things - erase and place things in a different location, until you all agree with whatever you decide. If it will make it any easier, redraw the "Plot Plan," and you can draw lines spaced one inch apart, both horizontally and vertically, to divide the entire lot into 10 foot squares. This too can be a big help in keeping your ideas to scale.

At this stage, let's point out to the experts and critics, who by now are positive you and I have missed out many of the finer details of the Landscaper's art, that we certainly agree with their views, but that we are doing the job as a pleasant hobby, as a chance for the whole family to take part, and as a "first time" project. To do this, and to keep it entertaining, we are avoiding many of the fine details.

Where are you going to grow a few rosy red tomatoes, and fresh garden peas, along with some juicy carrots, which you can go out and pick on those bright sunny mornings next July? Perhaps it should be alongside the garage area, or by the back fence, but remember, it needs full sun, so plan it accordingly. Don't overlook it, your children's education will be incomplete if they don't have a chance to discover things like long, fat, happy worms, or watching radishes grow, or helping to pull weeds, with clean cool black earth touching their toes and feet.

The kids are always intrigued when they discover that soil isn't what we call dirt. As you plan your home garden, leave room for the children to discover and learn and play in it - you'll be more than fully repaid in years to come. So often our youngsters are drilled with "don't touch." They can't hurt much in a garden, and even when you have just planted a scarce and beautiful plant, sent to you by a dear friend, and your sunburned chubby little one pats into the kitchen, clutching this plant like a little posie, and holds it up to you and says "Flowers Mommy" - remember, rule number one is "Don't react," and that your little gardener was bringing you his love. Plants are tough and hardy - they again will grow if transplanted, even under the worst of conditions.

How about the sidewalks from the garage to the back door, around the side of the house, and the front sidewalks? Try some long sweeping curves, when you are drawing, and try to avoid cutting up the back and front area too much. Sidewalks don't have to go right up the centre of the property. Experiment, and you'll see what I mean. Check your bank balance also, because I'm going to help you to spend some money in the next article.

Sheep & Lamb Commission

Alberta's Minister of Agriculture, the Honorable Dr. Hugh Horner, has announced the establishment of a sheep and wool commission.

In making this announcement, Dr. Horner said that sheep producers in this province have felt for many years that they needed a single organization through which to promote their industry, and that a sound domestic market could be created for lamb as a specialty product. Up to the present time the retail trade has had no assurance of a continuous supply of high quality lamb on a year-round basis.

Agriculture Minister Hugh Horner said members of the Alberta Sheep and Wool Commission, which was established under the Alberta Marketing of Agricultural Products Act, will be appointed very shortly. The Commission will have the authority to collect a fee of 10 cents per head on all lamb marketed in this province and a fee of one cent per pound of wool.

The money will be used to increase and up-grade the industry by developing better marketing methods, improving grading and quality standards and increasing promotional activities.

Dr. Horner points out that one of the first objectives of the Commission will be to encourage more producers to enter the industry. It is also likely to encourage the establishment of a processing plant to be used exclusively for slaughtering and processing lamb.

Approximately 92 per cent of the sheep producers who attended a series of meetings in January on the establishment of an Alberta Sheep and Wool Commission voted in favor.

Trustees bring school concerns before cabinet

The educational problems of children - what they learn and how they learn - and the ability of schools to keep pace in a rapidly changing society, have been brought to the attention of provincial government by the Alberta School Trustees Association.

Concerns relating to such diverse areas as the mental health of children, funding for school programs, and better accountability to society were expressed in a 55-page ASTA brief to Premier Peter Lougheed and his cabinet.

In the submission, President Harald Gunderson and other ASTA representatives stressed the problems confronting Alberta's 900 school trustees and 150 school boards as they seek to make education responsive to 400,000 students and responsible for total expenditures of almost $350 millions annually.

"The schools are in the business of guaranteeing futures to young people and it is a task that school trustees do not accept lightly," Mr. Gunderson said.

The ASTA delegation pointed out a proliferation of problems which require greater public understanding and an ordering of priorities from the Legislature. The brief urges immediate government consideration of:

*Increased financial support for the costs in providing educational programs for physically and mentally handicapped children;

*The establishment and support of educational programs for children in the year preceding grade one;

*Greater support for improved mental health services to children in Alberta's schools and the implementation of recommendations contained in the Blair Commission Report on mental health in Alberta;

*The promotion and coordination of environmental and ecological education programs for children and adults;

*The adoption of a semester plan for universities which would facilitate the entry of grade 12 students graduating from semesterized high schools;

*A more realistic approach to the rules governing pupil transportation grants which have given rise to many inequities including situations in which the width of a street may determine whether children will walk or ride to school.

Other recommendations contained in the brief deal with educational finance, research, and labor relations and are based on resolutions passed at the last annual ASTA convention.

In presenting the brief to the cabinet, Mr. Gunderson said "ASTA trusts that it will be accepted and considered as a co-operative attempt by an organization with primary responsibilities in Alberta education to improve the quality and efficiency of the educational programs in the schools and other educational institutions throughout the province."

Aide: "No, he's gone to the United Kingdom."

Woman: "Oh, I'm so sorry. When was the funeral?"

Comets lose two

On Thursday night in Stony Plain the Comets dropped a 7 - 5 match to the league leading Eagles.

The Comets opened the scoring on a fast break on the opening face-off, as Al

AL LAPLANTE

Laplante picked up a pass from Joe Cassidy and banged it home at the .05 second mark. Stony came back though, on two goals from Eagles forward, to go ahead. St. Albert bounced right back with the tieing goal from Al Laplante again. But 15 seconds later Eagle's Ryan Pack put in the go-ahead marker.

Action in the second period saw Terry Dube and A. Millar pot Comet goals to make the score 4 - 4 all.

The single Stony Plain goal was scored by Lynn Belcourt.

The pace really picked up in the third period as Stony rammed three quick goals past Comet goalie John Downs to go ahead 7 - 4. Until the 15:20, the Comets were held off, as Jim Read ripped one past the pipes on assists from Al Laplante

The game in all was fast and hard hitting and not as wide open as the score indicates. Penalties were few as St. Albert had five and Stony Plain five.

On Sunday, Feb. 6 at 8 p.m. in St. Albert the Comets bowed to the Leduc Oilers 5 - 2.

Scoring was opened by Leduc at 2:10 when Len Zalapski pounded one home on a pass from Bleackley. St. Albert followed suit one minute later on a goal by J. Arnot on assists from Pugliese and Joe Cassidy.

Then entered Gary Leskow who in the remaining 25 minutes of the game rammed three goals past Comet netminder M. Carrier to lead Leduc on to its victory.

Scoring the other St. Albert goal was Jim Read as he continues scoring, to keep him in the top scores of the league.

Wildcats have close one

The St. Albert Wildcats played host to the high scoring Westlock Midgets, Sunday, Feb. 6.

Dave Grice opened the scoring at 12:50 of the first period. This was Grice's first game back after a two game lay-off.

Westlock showed why they were the leagues leading team by scoring the next five goals. All seemed dismal for the Cats until Denis Boudreau found the top corner of Westlocks. This seemed to bring a spark of life to Wildcats. Doug Mackenzie scored at 11:10 of the third period to bring the score to 5 - 3. At 15:30 Doug Walin scored which proved to be the final goal of the game and the final score 5 - 4. Westlock lost the services of Doug Wishloff when he was ejected from the game for intentionally trying to injure a St. Albert player.

DOUG WALIN

The stars went to J. Bannister of Westlock, Matt Lister and Doug Walin of St. Albert.

Wildcats next home game is Tuesday, Feb. 15 at 8 p.m.

Midgets on road

By Denis Nault

On Saturday, Jan. 22, the Legal Midgets went on a road trip to Falher; about 250 miles away. For the majority of the boys it was their first trip north, and they looked forward to it. Enthusiasm died down due to dullness of the scenery; trees, trees and more trees!

That night they played the Smoky River Midgets (Falher and surroundings). They too, are sponsored by the Knights of Columbus. Legal lost 8 - 6. Goals were scored by Dan Prefontaine and Paul de Champlain with two each, followed by Gerald Letourneau and Randy Chalifoux with one apiece.

On Sunday after the team got up they were given a hearty meal at the hotel. With renewed enthusiasm, they prepared to meet their counterparts. Legal was again defeated, this time by a score of 7 - 6. Dan Prefontaine and Paul de Champlain each scored two goals again while Gerald Letourneau and Johnny Laberge rallied with single points.

The midget team would like to thank all those who made this trip possible. They are going to have a return match with Smoky River on the 19 and 20th of this month in Legal.

The midgets are at the top of the league. Playoffs for the league cup are expected to start at the end of the month, with competition in Morinville, Bon Accord, Gibbons and Redwater.

Morinville seniors win 3, drop 1

By Paul Krauskopf

On Friday, January 21 Morinville defeated the hard pressed St. Albert Meteors by a score of 5 - 2. Morinville led 3 - 0 in the first and second periods, the second being scoreless, with Marcel Tourangeau, Mike Beshara, and Robert Riopel scoring in the first. Richard Wright and Brian Telford scored the assurance goals. Scoring for the Meteors were Mile Belcourt and Edgar Wheele. Nine penalties were assessed, all minors, with four going to Morinville.

It took to the 21:39 mark of the third period for Terry Maslyk to score the tying goal and a minute later for O'Neill Chevallier to score the winning goal on Sunday, Jan. 23 when Morinville defeated Gibbons 3 - 2. The first Morinville goal was scored by Brian Telford in the second. Gibbons had Morinville in trouble as they lead throughout the game with their goals by Lock Christie and G. Boisjoli. Morinville were assessed four minor penalties with Gibbons getting six.

Marcel Tourangeau's brilliant four goal performance on Sunday, Jan. 30 led Morinville to a 6 - 2 victory over Namao. This was Morinville's best showing to date. Other goal scorer's were George Mallett and Richard Wright. Morinville led 3 - 0 in the first and 4 - 2 in the second. Namao's two goals were scored by Bill Akerman and Adolf Yeske.

People swap

The government has stepped up its determined program to promote interchange of personnel with other governments and private companies. The idea is to increase mutual understanding, and, given the growing stand- off between business and the federal government -- and between our various governments -- the timing is just about right The program is now moving into the senior levels with the Executive Interchange Program recently announced by C. M. Drury, president of the Treasury Board. Already under the Career Assignment Program, middle-management officers have been interchanged. This has so far involved 19 managers assigned on a temporary basis, quite apart from people recently brought in from the outside to permanent jobs in the public service, such as five deputy ministers. Under the new Executive Interchange two appointments have already been announced and more are in final stages of negotiation.

Library faces gap between needs-funds-annual report

While noting that the year 1971 was a reasonably successful one for the St. Albert Public Library, Chairman Robert Green emphasized that the widening gap between the needs of the library and the funds available is becoming more apparent.

In his annual report for the library board and town council, approved at last week's meeting of the board, Mr. Green said the board must look either toward obtaining additional financial support, or towards cooperation with other libraries in this region, with a view to establishing a regional library system. There are two possibilities for a regional set-up – either the area north of Edmonton, or affiliation with the Edmonton system.

To meet even the minimum standards sets by the Canadian Libraries Association the St. Albert Library would have to double its book collection of 13,500 volumes, and as yet the library has not been able to begin any collection of audio-visual material.

The 1971 budget was $33,500, comprised of $25,000 through a one mill allocation from the town; a 75¢ per capita grant of $7,000 and about $1,500 from memberships and donations.

Library service increased during 1971 in several directions. Hours of opening have increased from 18 hours per week in 1969, 21 in 1970, 24 in 1971 and 36 hours per week as of January 1st this year. Book collection is up from 9,552 in 1969 to 13,481 at year end; and circulation of books from 42,844 to 64,611 over the same three-year period.

Memberships are renewed annually in June and the total at June 13, 1971 was 3,477 or about 29 per cent of the town's population.

ACTIVITIES REPORT

Lecture room at the library is available on a no-charge basis to non-profit groups, and regular users include the Toastmistresses, Arts and Crafts Guild, Leo Club, Fish and Game Association, Sturgeon Hospital Nurses Association and the PSS Committee.

Arrangements were made for the hospital auxiliary to borrow large blocks of books on an extended loan basis for patients use. A story hour program is directed by Joyce Stedelbauer, assisted by Hazel Nixon for pre-school children.

Peter Wood attended the Canadian Library Association Conference in Vancouver last year, as delegate A brief was presented to town council pointing out that the book collection is about half the size needed for reasonable service to the community, basic constraint being inadequate financing on the one mill municipal grant budget.

Mrs. J. Green, Anne Hapchyn and Mrs. A. Wood supervised school visits to the library for grades one and four classes, with about 350 children attending over the year. Kindergarten classes visited the library during Young Canada Book Week.

The chairman's report concluded with a list of people who supported the library with donations, and whose interest is much appreciated by the board:

The St. Albert Lions Breakfast Club donated $500 for children's books, and the St. Albert Guide Company raised $62.75 for the same purpose. The St. Albert Toastmistresses contributed $25.00.

In addition, books were donated by Mr. G. Bocock, Miss R. Fowler, Mr. and Mrs. G. Hawken, Mrs. L. Vankesteren, Mrs. M. Nedig, Mr. A. Pettigrew, Miss O. Tinning and Mrs. E. L. Trempner. A plant was presented by Mrs. L. Kehling.

St. Albert High News

By Karen Donais

Anyone who did not have faith in our senior boys basketball team should have been at Vital Grandin last Friday night when they defeated Paul Kane High in a league game. High scorers were Jay Donais, Doug Reinbold, and Ron Martina. Richard Hauptman drove the PK boys right out of the gymnasium. Mike McNeely and Bob Genereux ran the boys from the other team till they were too exhausted to defend their basket.

Coach Marchand gambled on his "second-string" in the last quarter and came out the winner. The opposition failed to make any points whatsoever on Allan Evanlew, John Hauptman, Dennis Sanche, Ken Molesko, and Peter Stanley. Final score was 50 – 20.

ST. PAUL TOURNAMENT

The girls team have been accustomed to easy victories up until Saturday evening. The girls defeated Vegreville, and Austin O'Brien by a margin of at least 20 points both games. In the final game they met the home team, St. Paul, who had also never met defeat. It was the most exciting game the girls have played this season, and under all the pressure they came through with great confidence. High scorers were Letitia Sopchuk and Shirley Bokenfohr, and the final score was 35 – 31.

BOYS CURLING:

Last weekend the boys inter-school team travelled to the Jasper Place Curling club to compete in the Edmonton and District Zone playoffs. Peter Byl, Darrell Kremer, Bob Letourneau and Bill Witschen put up a good fight and were tough competition for Ross Shephard and Archbishop MacDonald. In the boys last game they lost on a measure and were knocked out.

"Goals of Secondary Education"

An Educational Comment

by Sylvia Walsh

The Secondary School Curriculum Board recently published a 'position paper' entitled "Goals of Secondary Education." The purpose of this publication was to encourage discussion among students, parents, teachers, school administrators, and the community-at-large about the goals of secondary education.

Unfortunately, this position paper has, to date, reached very few people other than those who are presently working in the educational field in some capacity. To get the truly representative feedback and reaction that this secondary curriculum board supposedly desires, this position paper and its contents should be circulated and distributed more widely than has been the case to date. The community and parents, in particular, could play an instrumental role in determining the type of schools we have.

Idealistic as the position paper may seem, many questions arise as to the implications it may have in terms of actual classroom situations. An ideal is one thing. Implementing it effectively is a slightly different matter.

In somewhat brief form, the six major goals of secondary education and some of the applications of each of these goals, as presented in the position paper, are outlined below.

NOTE:
If you have certain views and ideas about some aspect of the points presented in the position paper or what these points may eventually mean in terms of teaching personnel, textbooks and materials to be used, subject matter content, school plant and facilities, student evaluation, community involvement etc. let's hear those views. You may write directly to the Curriculum Branch, Dept. of Education, Edmonton or you may wish to make your views known to me and I would incorporate these in a brief which I will be presenting to the Director of Curriculum in June, 1972. Remember, this may be your opportunity to influence the course of our future high schools!

Sylvia Walsh,
30 Gresham Blvd.
(Trustee, St. Albert Public School Board #3)

ATTITUDES, SKILLS, AND KNOWLEDGE ESSENTIAL FOR EFFECTIVE LIVING IN A CHANGING WORLD

*major emphasis of secondary education should be centered on the development of learning skills and the various methods of inquiry *education should attempt to acquaint students with the problem-solving process *concept of the school library should be extended to the idea of the information centre; students should acquire skill in information retrieval *teacher's role should be one of resource person and educational leader *teacher-training institutions should emphasize development of skills which will enable teachers to be more effective resource personnel *curriculum should be flexible enough to meet the social, cultural, and physical needs of all students *students should leave school confident that they can master new bodies of knowledge and new skills, and eager to continue the personal development they have begun.

KNOWLEDGE ATTITUDES, SKILLS AND SELF-UNDERSTANDING REGARDING THEIR PHYSICAL AND MENTAL HEALTH

*maintenance of a healthy school environment where the student can identify with teachers who are sensitive to his needs, who accept him at his stage of development, and who know him as a person in a relationship of mutual trust and respect *belief that a teacher cannot divest himself of counselling responsibilities without sacrificing teaching effectiveness *widespread participation in school athletic programs should be encouraged *school leaders must share a commitment to help all students *a school climate in which students feel they have an effective voice in influencing what happens to them in the school *offerings of the school should be available to all students who have the prerequisites; programs should NOT be identified on the basis of ability; 'grouping' or 'streaming' must be examined critically, particularly in terms of the influence it may have on the student's self-esteem.

PHILOSOPHY WHICH STRESSES REGARD FOR HUMAN WORTH AND FOR THE VALUES CONDUCIVE TO ETHICAL AND MORAL BEHAVIOR.

*structures and patterns of western society are undergoing major changes; meaningful discussion of the values underlying these changes are needed

*the school should be more concerned with individuals than with programs, courses or regulations

*students, teachers, and parents should have opportunities to discuss problems in an informal manner and in a spirit of mutual respect *rules and regulations should be applied to individuals in a flexible manner

*by involvement as citizens in the school community, students should develop a sense of self-worth and an understanding of the worth of others

EFFECTIVENESS IN COMMUNICATING IDEAS AND FEELINGS

*stress the importance of communication skills *school environment should be such that the student feels free to express his own ideas and feelings *to communicate more effectively, a person must have respect for his own ideas and feelings; he must learn to evaluate materials presented to him through the various media

*more use should be made of technology to devise better methods of learning communication skills

*a wide range of instructional material is necessary for differing student abilities and interests *development of communicative skills should permeate the entire school program

CONFIDENCE IN THEIR OWN ABILITIES, A SENSE OF RESPONSIBILITY AND SATISFACTION AND ENJOYMENT OF LIFE

*developing a realistic and sensitive appraisal of one's strengths and limitations, thus developing confidence in one's ability to learn *mutual respect between staff and students resulting from the co-operative working through of issues

*a school environment where students respect but do not fear the teaching and administrative staff *school should be an open, flexible institution, *school experiences should help students to take others into consideration when decisions are made

*students should be aware of the criteria upon which evaluation will take place; evaluation of student progress should use as wide a range of techniques as possible

*community experience of various kinds should become an integral part of the school program

*man's natural environment should become increasingly important as a setting for learning

AN UNDERSTANDING AND APPRECIATION OF THE USE OF LEISURE TIME

*schools should provide an atmosphere conducive to creativity *school programs should provide opportunities for students to become involved in social service work and community endeavors *cultural interests of students as well as their vocational plans should be considered in individual programming *school facilities should be designed for maximum community use

*there should be greater emphasis on learning experiences around social and environmental problems *personnel resources available in the community should be encouraged to participate in school activities.

Multiple waste disposal methods

The Honorable W. J. Yurko, minister of The Environment, announces that Associated Engineering Services Ltd. of Edmonton will conduct a feasibility study on the establishment of sites for multiple waste disposal in Alberta.

The study, to be completed by the end of March, is a provincially-financed winter works program.

It will categorize the types and quantities of complex wastes produced in Alberta, and the possible disposal methods for these. The project will concentrate on exotic and toxic wastes, many of a chemical nature, which are difficult to dispose of by conventional means.

Associated Engineering Services will establish criteria for disposal sites, and make recommendations on the most feasible sites in Alberta, taking into consideration such factors as environmental, economic and social consequences.

The final report will show the operation of various disposal methods, estimated operating and capital costs, guidelines for fees to be charged to the users, and recommended monitoring for environmental protection.

Mr. Yurko notes that the Department of The Environment has surveyed approximately 250 industries in the province to determine the types and volumes of wastes produced, and the present disposal methods. This information will be made available to the consulting firm.

Only three per cent of the 44 million tons of salt produced in the United States each year seasons food. The rest is used by industry, National Geographic Society says.

Family and friends gather to celebrate 99th birthday of Joseph Berube Family, friends and neighbors of Mr. Joseph Berube gathered to celebrate his 99th birthday with him in the auditorium at Youville Home Saturday evening. Aline Soetaert, Aurele Durocher and Florence Soetaert, who spent part of their childhood in Grandpa Berube's home, were hosts for the evening and arranged a delightful program.

Grandson Remi Soetaert got things underway at the piano and everyone joined in "Happy Birthday and For he's a jolly good fellow." Jocelyn Durocher acted as emcee, calling first on Vernice Soetaert, whose dance, "Scottish Measures" was much enjoyed. "Top Hat Trickery" performed by invitation by Joan McQuitty and Sylvia Leblanc was hilarious and gave the crowd a good laugh.

Over a glass of wine everybody had a chance to chat with Mr. Berube and offer their good wishes to the old gentleman who is surprisingly vigorous for his 99 years, and still enjoys a good cigar. Tables were set up and a variety of card games got underway, with Mr. Berube, who has been a card enthusiast all his life, joining in. The pleasant evening passed so quickly that it was midnight by the time lunch, highlighted by a birthday cake, baked as two big nines and attractively decorated, was over and the guests left.

Joseph Berube was born at St. Pierre Baptiste, Quebec in 1873, and came west with his wife Georgina (nee Lessard) and three children, Luzella, Griezella and Deo, in 1903. The family homesteaded in the Beaumont district, which was to be their home for the next 14 years.

Six children were born on the homestead, bringing the family to five sons and four daughters: Leo, Zulma, Edward, Paul, Rita and Henry. Griezella died shortly after the family moved to Beaumont.

In 1917 the family moved to a farm one mile north of Villeneuve where Mr. and Mrs. Berube were kept busy with farming and raising their family. After a total of 39 years, they retired in 1942 and went to make their home with their daughter Rita, Mrs. Albert Soetaert, who farmed a mile east of the home place. For a number of years Mr. Berube enjoyed working in the large garden there. Their son Henry took over the farm.

His wife passed away in 1948 and Mr. Berube continued to live with the Soetaerts until 1956, when he went to stay with his daughter Zulma, Mrs. Simard of St. Albert, who had lost her husband. His daughter Luzella, Mrs. Moise Durocher, passed away in 1954, Edward died in 1960 and Zulma died in 1968.

Mr. Joseph Berube with his family of four sons and one daughter, and their spouses on the occasion of his 99th birthday. Seated from left are the youngest son, Henry, Mr. Berube and his oldest son Deo. Standing are Cecile (Mrs. Leo) Berube, Lucia (Mrs. Henry) Berube, son Leo, daughter Rita (Mrs. Albert Soetaert), Albert Soetaert, Georgette (Mrs. Paul Berube) son Paul and Telia (Mrs. Deo) Berube.

Four years ago Mr. Berube moved to Youville Home. His family has grown to five generations, with 37 grandchildren, many great grandchildren and a few great-great grandchildren, a great many of whom were present Saturday evening to congratulate him and wish him more happy birthdays to come.

Copithorne scraps senior age road tests

Highways and Transport Minister, the Honourable Clarence Copithorne, announced that as of January 1, 1972, drivers 70 years of age and over will no longer be required to undergo knowledge and road tests in renewing their operators licenses. They will, however, be required to have a good driving record, provide a satisfactory medical certificate and to pass a vision test administered by Motor Vehicle personnel.

The Highways and Transport Minister said it will be determined from time to time whether the medical and visual requirements will be necessary every two years thereafter or on an annual basis.

The Department of Highways will continue to give knowledge and road tests to senior age drivers (70 years and older) on a voluntary basis, should the driver so request. It is hoped that many senior citizens will endeavour to undertake the complete drivers examination which could be to their advantage in maintaining a higher standard of driving efficiency.

Warble check at auction markets

On and after February 1 all cattle in Alberta going through livestock markets under provincial supervision will be inspected for warbles before they are sold.

Jack Kerns, livestock specialist in charge of the province's warble control program, explains that the inspection service was implemented to prevent warble infested cattle from spreading warbles to clean cattle. It is designed to find out who is not treating his cattle, and to keep track of infected animals after they are sold.

When the cattle arrive at the livestock market, they will be examined by a provincial veterinarian who will record on a special form the name and address of anyone who contributes cattle with warbles. He will then mark the cattle with a large yellow "W" on their backs, and give the form to the auction market operator who will add the names and addresses of the purchasers of the cattle. As the cattle go into the ring, the auctioneer will announce that they have warbles. After the sale the form will be turned over to the agricultural service board in the area, or areas, to which the cattle are going. Copies of the form will be sent to the veterinary services division and the animal industry division in Edmonton. In this way it will be possible to keep track of the animals.

According to Mr. Kerns, some livestock markets intend to try treating infested cattle with an application of contact rotenone. How successful this approach will be remains to be seen. Other auction markets are talking about returning infested cattle to their owners.

In view of the way cattle owners and municipal authorities have co-operated in the warble control program during the past year, Mr. Kerns does not anticipate any problem with infested cattle at livestock markets. He says that judging by the volume of systemics sold in 1971, well over half the cattle in Alberta must have been treated last year.

He also reports that over 70 per cent of the province's cattle owners have signed up for the warble control program. The areas which now have warble control extend from Fairview in the north of the province to Lethbridge in the south. Another 10 per cent of cattle owners have committed themselves to warble control in 1972. Mr. Kerns says that by July 1st of this year at least 80 per cent of Alberta's cattle will be in warble control areas.

The warble control program in this province is the only government supported program of its kind in Canada. It has attracted attention from British Columbia, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Montana. In fact, Saskatchewan extension and livestock personnel discussed Alberta's program at considerable length with Mr. Kerns at a recent meeting in Medicine Hat.

Crazy potatoes are just great

Potatoes are the craziest things. They'll remove bags from under the eyes. They're good for cleaning oil paintings. They take the rust from pots and pans. And they're not fattening.

About those "poches sous les yeux," or bags under the eyes, a slice of raw potato applied to the swollen area for 15 minutes does the trick, according to Larry Jorgenson, secretary-manager of the Alberta Potato Commission in Calgary.

Oil paintings? Rub raw sliced potato over the painting and then wipe off with a damp rag. Mr. Jorgensen says, the oils glisten with new life after the potato poultice.

Try the same thing on rusty sections of the kitchen pots and pans to bring them back to mint condition, says Mr. Jorgenson.

But potatoes fattening? Bunk, says Mr. Jorgenson, and he sets out to prove his point.

He quotes such sources as the federal department of health, the departments of agriculture of Canada and the United States, that a medium size potato baked in its skin contains only 93 calories; one boiled in its skin has 76 calories, and one peeled, mashed and with milk added produces only 55 calories.

Take a serving of rice with a few raisins added and the calorie total reaches 146, he points out.

"Potatoes have been maligned for years as being fattening," Mr. Jorgenson says, "but the culprit is not the potato, it is the calorie-rich toppings that so many people add to their potato."

"Even in most reducing diets, potatoes should remain part of the daily food intake," he says. "Potatoes are an excellent source of vitamin C, and their values in iron, potassium, niacin and thiamin are high. When these factors are all taken into consideration, along with the economy of potatoes, it's obvious that potatoes are a prime part of every person's diet, day in and day out."

Policy stated on rape varieties

The following is an excerpt from the Western Canadian Seed Processors newsletter dated Jan. 25, 1972. Quote - "A number of statements have been made to farmers this winter, regarding the varieties of rapeseed they should grow. Federal Minister of Agriculture, the Hon. Mr. Olson, and other government officials have in recent news releases recommended that Western farmers grow only LEAR in 1972. However, our company must contract for the varieties we need for the actual markets we have as a crusher. As a result, Western Canadian Seed Processors' CONTRACT POLICY FOR 1972 will be as follows:

1. WCSP will be contracting acreages for Arlo, Echo and Span.

2. We guarantee to accept delivery of the contracted production.

3. Grower applications for contracts received prior to January 15 will be issued for the varieties requested.

4. An attempt will be made to issue as many other contracts as possible for the varieties requested by each grower.

5. Once the acreage target for each specific variety is reached, only the alternate varieties will be contracted.

Remember, a contract with WCSO guarantees the company will take delivery of 20 bushels per acre contracted, regardless of the variety . . . Arlo, Echo or Span." Unquote.

Deadline set

—Issued by the District Agriculturist's office

Livestock producers have until April 30, 1972 to apply for a basic herd to be established for 1971 or earlier, or to add animals which matured in 1971 to this basic herd. If the new federal taxation legislation comes into force at the beginning of the new year, as now seems very likely, it will no longer be possible to establish or add to a basic herd.

Cal Brandley, legal specialist with the Alberta department of agriculture, explains that all farmers with a basic herd will be required to put a value on these herds on valuation day - a day that will be declared by the federal government as the day everybody must value his assets. The value assigned to the herd at that time will be tax exempt. This means that if the owner sells the herd before it has time to appreciate further, he will pay no income tax. However, if he sells it sometime in the future when its value has increased, he will have to pay income tax on half the difference between its worth on valuation day and the sale price.

Cattle, swine, sheep and horses that are used for breeding stock are all eligible for basic herd status. The main requirement is that the herd be a permanent one and that there is continuity of operation, Mr. Brandley says. Animals in a feedlot operation, for example, would not be eligible for a basic herd.

Not every farmer is automatically entitled to establish a basic herd. He must have filed income tax returns for all the years since he commenced his livestock operations or he must be able to produce adequate records to show that he would not have been taxable even if he had established a basic herd, or added to his existing basic herd.

Animals that have been acquired through a gift or inheritance, would qualify for a basic herd providing that in the first case, the value of the animals had been included in the donor's income, and in the second case, that the income tax had already been paid by the estate.

To establish a basic herd from animals that have been purchased, the owner must not have charged them as an expense against the business. To increase a basic herd by natural increase (the progeny of animals already in the basic herd), the farmer must include the fair market value of the animals in his income in the year that the animals become mature (two years old). Hence, a farmer today can only add those animals to his basic herd which matured in 1971. There are no provisions which allow a farmer to add animals now which matured in those years for which his income tax returns have already been assessed. In addition, if a farmer brought mature animals in 1971 and did not charge them as an expense, he could add these animals to his basic herd.

Farmers who have established a basic herd in the past, should check with their district taxation office to make sure that the number of animals they have recorded as being in the herd agrees with the number approved by the taxation office.

Additional information and application forms for establishing, or adding to, a basic herd can be obtained from district taxation offices in Edmonton and Calgary.

Order now for Wascana

Alberta farmers planning to grow Wascana durum wheat this year should order their seed immediately through the seed trade, or from the few pedigree growers who are multiplying stocks in this province.

Sherman Yelland, cereal and oilseed crops specialist with the Alberta plant industry division, reports that some of our stocks have already been sold to Saskatchewan farmers and seed companies. Although many more bushels have been requested, remaining supplies have been temporarily reserved for Alberta farmers.

Mr. Yelland says Wascana is every bit as high in quality as Hercules. It matures approximately three days later than Hercules, but has a five per cent higher yield. When commercial quantities are available, it will be given the same special quotas by the Canadian Wheat Board as Hercules.

As few as 4,000 mountain lions remain in the United States, the National Geographic Society says.

As I See It

by ROSE MARTEL

This weekend, St. Valentine's Day will be celebrated once again with messages of love, flowers, gifts to express in a special way, our feelings for those who are very special to each one of us as individuals.

How does the young generation feel about true love of people? The following essay is the original, unedited copy of what a 13 year old, grade 1X student wrote on the subject of LOVE.

I suggest that you read it, and then answer the three questions that follows truthfully to your ownself. You may be very surprised at the right answers.

1. How much do you think you are worth?
2. Who are the five people you need most in life?
3. Can you name three people who need you more than anyone else in their lives?

FOR LOVE YOU NEED PEOPLE

People who need people are the luckiest people of all. They're lucky because their need is leading them right to the one source of happiness built into being human.

"I live the human race, it's just people I can't stand." Anyone who figures he can live by loving the human race is stupid. If we can't love people who need people are lucky, and that most of us, being unlucky, can't stand people. Or at least, can't stand many people all the time.

The big pitch to us is that we need God, teachers, doctors, priests, laws, rules, money, jobs and so on. But common sense tells us we need people! People who care! Look at a child and see how much he or she wants to be loved. With love, even a sick child can be happy. Without love, given freely all the time, a child is not happy. It's that simple, and the need for love is a need which grows and grows.

Love begins in our life as a one-way thing. We take all the love we can get, and it comes in the form of food, warmth, comfort. As babies, we demand to be held, to be cuddled, and to be fed. As toddlers we also demand to be played with, to be talked to, to be noticed. All this time our parents, our brothers and sisters, and our friends give us love. We just drink it all in. Children die when they are not loved. But so do adults. In fact, adults without love die faster.

Our craving for love of every sort grows by leaps and bounds. That's why we hate being alone; that's why when our parents don't care about us we go wild with panic. That's why it's upsetting to leave home. That's why it is so tragic when our parents die.

The people-need is in fact two-sided. We need the love of people in order to live and to grow. But we also need to love other people if they are to live and to grow. The really odd thing is that when we just take everyone else's love, we grow to be a freak, a human sponge that can only suck up everyone around.

THE UNREAL SPLIT: LOVING & BEING LOVED

Most of us have been pretty well bombarded with the notion that love means to love other people, and that our duty lies in that direction. From the time a child is able to walk until he is full-grown in our culture, he is constantly told that to be a respectable Christian and a decent human being he must love other people, he must help other people, he must do this and do that. At the same time, he is also bombarded with another motion of love. We have all experienced this other bombardment, the one that says sex is everything, the one that urges us to take everything we can get, eat everything we can see, earn every dollar available, get the most out of life and get it fast. This is the bombardment that tells the child, from the time he can understand, that he should take all he can get and that he won't get anything he doesn't take. Two different messages about love, and both true! But because they are split, we are asked to make a choice. To make a choice for either half of love is fatal.

Love does not come in parts. We have heard that love means to get everything we can out of life, especially sexually. We have also heard that love means to help and to serve other people. In order to love at all, we must both give and get, sexually and all other ways. Love is a two-way process or there is no love at all. There is no choice between taking from people or giving to people. It's all part of the same thing. We need people for what they do to us and for what we do for them. We need to love and we need to be loved. To make a choice between one or the other is to accept a split that makes love impossible.

To say we need people is to say a mouthful. People who need people are indeed lucky. And we all need people We need them both ways.

AS I SEE IT: After reading this essay, my faith in a better world society was greatly increased. The perception is deep, the dimensions of the problem well defined, and although the young person has not a great experience of life itself, it shows without a shadow of a doubt the individual has a very clear vision of what values the student puts on the real goal in life and the priorities which are going to motivate the new generation to achieve a new society in the world of tomorrow.

CAKE DECORATING:

The response to the formation of cake decorating classes was very wide and I think more information is warranted. Mrs. Mary Clark (799-5556), who has consented to give these classes, has informed me that Monday evening would be the best time for her, but if necessary she could be available on Wednesday evening. At present her afternoons are full but classes can be arranged in the afternoon starting in April. The major cost to the participants in these classes would be the purchasing of tips for the decorating. These cost $2.40 but the tips are necessary to have at home anyway, if any use is going to be made of what is learned. I would like to hear from anyone interested and times prefered. Contact me at 256-3321 or 424-6276

EDUCATION FOR LIVING:

At a recent meeting representatives of various agencies within the district discussed the possibility of forming "Education for Living" sessions. Representatives included Mrs. Mona Acker, Preventive Social Services, St. Albert; Mrs. Gwen Law, supervisor of public health nursing for the Sturgeon Health Unit; Mr. Wally Klatt, DA; and Miss Pat Prymak, district home economist. It was decided at this meeting that the residents of the MD should assist in outlining an education for living session. The next meeting of this group will be held on Monday, Feb. 15 with Father Primeau, Father Tleulie, and the newly appointed district youth representative Mr. Bill Malmo in attendance. At this time plans will be made for involving residents in the planning stages of such a session. If anyone is interested in assisting in these plans they can contact any of the above mentioned persons.

NAMAO:

There has been interest shown in the Namao district in some form of a sewing course. The two types of courses include the Stretch and Sew or a beginniners sewing course. Either or both of these courses could be made available if there is enough interest. The stretch and sew course would be given by a representative from Edmonton. The beginning sewing would be taught by Pat Prymak the DHE - 256-3351 and would run one day a week for three weeks. If you would like more information contact either Miss Prymak or myself at the municipal office.

Benefit dance aids Legal couple

By Lucienne Montpetit

Some 300 people showed their good spirit, generosity and friendship towards Mr. and Mrs. Richard Montpetit at the benefit dance held for them on Feb. 5, due to a fire that destroyed their home and belongings.

Louis Lecavalier emcee thanked the orchestra for donating their time, the hall committee who made no charge for the use of the hall, the Knights of Columbus instigators of the evening, CWL, and Les Femmes Chretiennes.

Louis was very pleased to present to the couple the sume of $930 on behalf of everyone present, and also others who contributed but were unable to attend.

Richard and Juliette were grateful and thanked everyone for their generosity.
